

Datacenter in London. Single policy node at this location.

For all of Asia and Europe, a carrier manages the MPLS connections.
All requests go to a single policy server node in London. In the event of a failure of the London
PSN or datacenter, all requests will go to the U.S. PSN nodes across MPLS.

Ó

Amsterdam Datacenter. Possible new ISE deployment in the event latency is to high.

